AGENDA 18

WELCOME

On behalf of the Health Resources and Services Administration's (HRSA) Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB), we look forward to your participation at the 2024 Maternal and Infant Early Childhood Home Visiting (MIECHV) All-Grantee Meeting on January 29- 31, 2024. We are thrilled to be able to welcome many of you back in person for the first time since 2019 while also offering virtual opportunities to expand access and engagement to a wider MIECHV audience.

The theme of the 2024 All-Grantee Meeting is Collaborating on a new era for MIECHV. This meeting will provide a space for the MIECHV community to share information and best practices to support service expansion, strengthen home visiting workforce development, and advance high-quality implementation of evidence-based home visiting and early childhood systems activities.

The recent passage of the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2023 included the Jackie Walorski Maternal and Child Home Visiting Reauthorization Act of 2022, which reauthorized the MIECHV Program through FY 2027. This Act represents an opportunity to expand services to more families across the country who face challenges and barriers to achieving health and well-being.

We hope your participation in this meeting will offer time to reflect on your hard work and resiliency over the past several years and fuel your passion to continue this great work into the future. Thank you for your ongoing commitment to providing high quality home visiting services to children and families in states and communities across the United States.

The 2024 MIECHV All-Grantee Meeting is scheduled adjacent to Start Early's Home Visiting Summit, which is scheduled for January 31-February 2, 2024. Both events will be held in the Washington, DC metro area and will offer coordinated, but distinct, opportunities for learning and engagement.

Sincerely,

Michael D. Warren,
MD MPH FAAP

Associate Administrator,
Maternal and Child Health
Bureau

Cindy Phillips,
MSW, MPH

Director, Division of Home Visiting and Early Childhood Systems

COLLABORATING ON A NEW ERA FOR MIECHV

Established in 2010, the Maternal and Infant Early Childhood Home Visiting (MIECHV) Program supports home visiting for pregnant people and parents with young children in high-risk communities. Despite facing challenges like a pandemic and economic crisis, the program thrives thanks to the resilience and hard work of the MIECHV community.

The 2024 MIECHV All-Grantee Meeting is a hybrid event, with opportunities for both in-person and virtual attendance, aiming to celebrate the amazing work of the MIECHV community, convene and collaborate as leaders in early childhood, share best practices with peers, and participate in interactive, hands-on learning sessions.

REGINE CHERRY

HOME VISITING PARENT LEADER

Plenary Session: Nothing for Us, Without Us: Centering Family & Community Leadership

Regine Cherry is a mother and entrepreneur working in the Lansing, Michigan area. For Regine, being a parent is an adventure that she appreciates more and more every day. She is raising her son Reign (age six) to be a decent, kind, and empathetic human. Regine became aware of home visiting when she was pregnant with her son. Through home visiting, she connected with her home visitor, whom she loves, and eventually with Ingham's LLG coordinator, the Michigan statewide parent work. Now, she will be transitioning out of the National H.V. Network. Regine owns and operates GG's Blessings, which is Parent Resource Empowerment for new and expecting parents. She is passionate about supporting other new parents in her community and using her experiences to give back and create parental success and EMPOWERMENT.

BRYN FORTUNE

PARENT/CAREGIVER LEADERSHIP DESIGN SYSTEM

Plenary Session: Nothing for Us, Without Us: Centering Family & Community Leadership

Bryn Fortune has raised two daughters with special health needs and has the historical lived experience and expertise of a parent leader. She has over 35 years of lived experience in the role of building equity driven parent/caregiver leadership projects with deep expertise in implementation designs that address how authentic parent partnership in co-design looks when it is put into practice. Over the years her work has included local, state, and national level experiences. Previously she developed and facilitated a statewide parent leader group within Michigan's Home Visiting System, supported the Education Development Center in the production of a Parent Leadership Toolkit for HV Collaborative Improvement and Innovation Network (CollIN), lead the production of the nationally recognized publication, "Stepping Up and Speaking Out: The Evolution of Parent Leadership in Michigan" and co-produced a learning series for Start Early, "Building Parent Leadership at the Systems Level."

Currently Bryn serves as a thought partner for the National Home Visiting Network, leads the design, coordination, and facilitation for the Nurture Connection-Early Relational Health (ERH)- Family Network Collaborative (FNC) in partnership with Dr. David Willis, and provides consultation, coaching, and facilitation to various state initiatives that support their development of meaningful parent/caregiver partnership/leadership efforts.

CAROLE JOHNSON

ADMINISTRATOR, HEALTH RESOURCES AND SERVICES
ADMINISTRATION

Plenary Session: A Conversation with HRSA Leadership

Carole Johnson is the Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA). Carole Johnson joined HRSA from the White House COVID-19 Response Team. She previously served as Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Human Services, leading the state's largest agency and providing health care and social services to one-in-five New Jerseyans. During her tenure as Commissioner, the Department expanded Medicaid coverage of mental health and substance use disorder services, created new Medicaid benefits to improve maternal health outcomes, and integrated Medicaid into the newly launched state-based Affordable Care Act marketplace. Under Johnson's leadership, the Department also substantially increased child care rates for the first time in a decade, expanded food assistance benefits, and created an Office of New Americans to support the state's diverse communities. Johnson served for more than five years as the Domestic Policy Council public health lead in the Obama White House, working on the Ebola and Zika responses, implementation of the Affordable Care Act, and combatting the opioid epidemic. In addition, she served on Capitol Hill as health staff for the U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging and for members of the U.S. Senate Finance Committee and U.S. House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee.

At the Department of Health and Human Services, Johnson previously managed health care workforce policy issues for HRSA. She also was policy director for the Alliance of Community Health Plans, program officer with the Pew Charitable Trusts health program, and senior government relations manager with the American Heart Association.

She holds a master's degree in government from the University of Virginia.

SHERRI KILLINS STEWART, EDD BUILD INITIATIVE

Plenary Session: Home Visiting and Early Childhood Systems: Accelerating, Upstream Together

Sherri Killins Stewart, Ed.D, is the Director of State Systems Alignment and Integration for the BUILD Initiative, Co-Director of State Services, and an independent consultant. Dr. Stewart works directly with state leaders to advance early childhood systems efforts in health, early learning, and family support, e.g., economic security. She leads work to define and create intentional practices regarding equity in early childhood systems, policy, programs, and leadership. Her equity work includes co-leading the Equity Leaders Action Network (ELAN), a network of early childhood leaders that aims to increase opportunity, remove barriers, and distribute resources to children, families, and communities marginalized by existing policies and practices. Dr. Stewart has worked in states, cities, and communities.

Dr. Killins Stewart has worked as a nurse home visitor, is the former Commissioner of Early Education and Care for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Vice President of Human Development and Operations at the Annie E. Casey Foundation and as CEO of Empower New Haven.

Dr. Killins Stewart is committed to supporting families, children, and adults through workforce, housing, health, and education strategies. Her efforts seek to increase access to high-quality formal and informal opportunities for families and communities. She is known for crossing organizational boundaries to create a child development and family lens on community-based work, e.g., libraries, museums, and state agencies.

Dr. Killins Stewart holds a nursing degree from the University of Pittsburgh, a Master of Administrative Science from Johns Hopkins University, and a Doctorate in Counseling Psychology from the University of Sarasota.

TIFFANY KOSTELEC

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Plenary Session: Nothing for Us, Without Us: Centering Family & Community Leadership

Tiffany Kostelec is the Manager of the Home Visiting Unit within the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. Tiffany has worked in the field of early childhood for over 20 years in both prevention and intervention focused early childhood programs, previously working as a supervisor of a Part C of IDEA program in Nevada. Tiffany's experience within the Michigan early childhood system includes working with partners to strengthen the Michigan home visiting system that includes 8 evidence-based models (e.g., NFP, HFA, PAT, EHS, MIHP, IMH, FS, PALS). Tiffany, her team, and state and local partners are collaborating in the often crazy world that is home visiting to build a system that will ensure families are supported to achieve positive outcomes. Some of our major focus areas include utilizing and strengthening the voice of parent leaders, continuous quality improvement throughout the system, addressing health equity and disparities, improving data collection and quality, expanding awareness and understanding of home visiting within communities, supporting families impacted by substance use, and coordination with the Preschool Development Grant, the Pritzker Grant, and the Families First Prevention Services Act. Tiffany and her husband live in West Michigan and have two adult children aged 23 and 20.

ANNE MOSLE

ASCEND AT THE ASPEN INSTITUTE

Plenary Session: Home Visiting and Early Childhood Systems: Accelerating, Upstream Together

Anne Mosle is a trailblazer transforming the future of leadership to elevate whole family solutions. She is Vice President at the Aspen Institute, co-founder of the Aspen Forum on Women and Girls, and founder and executive director of Ascend at the Aspen Institute—a catalyst and convener for diverse leaders working across systems and sectors to build intergenerational family prosperity and well-being by intentionally focusing on children and the adults in their lives, together. Mosle’s influence as a national leader has been recognized with numerous awards, including Distinguished Grotonian, Washingtonian of the Year, the American Public Human Services Association’s Jerry W. Friedman Health and Human Services Impact Award, and the Washington Area Women’s Foundation’s Visionary Philanthropist.

Committed to radical collaboration, Mosle created the Ascend Fellowship which to date has invested in over 140 visionary cross-sector leaders, a program that builds on her commitment to breaking down silos, advancing equity and inclusion, and valuing lived experience as expertise. Over the past decade, Mosle has ignited a global movement of hundreds of fellows, policymakers, philanthropists, researchers, parents, and practitioners focused on the same North Star: for children to grow up loved and valued, starting in their earliest years. The Ascend network reaches over 12 million families and has unlocked over $500M in capital to build new pathways to prosperity. Mosle previously served as vice president and officer of the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and a past president of the Washington Area Women’s Foundation. She serves on the Institute for Women’s Policy Research board of directors, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation State Strategy Advisory Committee, and as a trusted advisor to countless community, public, private, and philanthropic efforts focused on intergenerational economic mobility. She lives with her family in Washington, DC.

TAMARA TUCKER HOME VISITING PARENT LEADER

Plenary Session: Nothing for Us, Without Us: Centering Family & Community Leadership

Tamara Tucker is a black mother of six children who, as a teen, gave birth to her first born at the age of 17. She is now a grandmother to eight grandchildren. She is currently raising her oldest daughter's youngest living child, due to her untimely death and, considering her tragedy, she is charged with the task of carrying on her daughter's legacy. Tamara is a current member within the Michigan Home Visiting Parent Leadership Group. She has amazing parent leadership experience across many sectors in Michigan. She, too, has received national and state developed trainings in parenting and leadership. Her belief in these opportunities have led her to become a trainer for many of these opportunities that she once received. Tamara continues to be very active in her local community through volunteer and local system change work, while she maintains her membership with the state level group. Her passion for supporting families who are navigating challenges that she, too, has lived through brings a unique expertise in engaging families.
